

To our loyal customers:

Bravo! National Dance and Talent Competition has been working extremely hard on a solution for our dance families affected by the COVID-19 (coronavirus) crisis. We know how hard our studios work all year for the chance to compete at Bravo! regionals, and are devastated that circumstances beyond our control have caused many of our venues to close to competitions, for the safety of all. The unprecedented challenges facing studio owners, parents, dancers, and dance competitions will require a great deal of patience, flexibility, and creativity. The 2020 Dance Competition Season has been one of the most difficult and formidable in recent memory, but we are in this together!

We are hopeful our events will eventually be able to return to the stage later this season, but we are excited to announce the launch of iBravo! 2.0, our online competition alternative. We believe this will be a safe and fun way for studios to adhere to CDC social gathering guidelines, but still be able to compete and be adjudicated by our talented Bravo! judges--online! The SHOW WILL GO ON!! All performers will now be able to compete through this next-generation medium. iBravo! is beginning a new era in competitive dance, while adhering to the Bravo! standard of excellence.

We plan on moving forward with all scheduled live events this season, barring venue cancellations, and we are very excited to offer this new alternative experience! We will be in touch soon with more details about the new 2020 plans!

Thank you for your patience and support!!
